ABSTRACT

The Eighteenth Century Short Title Catalogue (ESTC) on compact disc provides access to nearly 300,000 printed materials from Britain and the British colonies from 1701 to 1800. The file contains a wide variety of materials (laws, almanacs, posters, catalogs, directories, verses, monographs, advertisements, and flyers) in all languages, and covers materials printed anywhere in the world in English. Compiled from the holdings of over 1,000 libraries, the ESTC also includes a printed listing of the locations of materials and contributing libraries. This guide identifies access points, and provides directions for searching the file. Sample search strategies are presented; the browse searching feature is described; sample records are displayed; and saving and downloading files are explained. (SLD)

EIGHTEENTH CENTURY SHORT TITLE CATALOGUE ON CD-ROM

DESCRIPTION/SCOPE: The Eighteenth Century Short Title Catalogue on compact disc provides access to nearly 300,000 printed materials of Britain and British colonies from 1701 to 1800. The file contains a wide variety of materials--laws, almanacs, posters, catalogs, directories, single-sheet verses, monographs, advertisements, flyers, etc.--in all languages. In addition, it covers material printed anywhere in the world in the English language. Compiled from the holdings of over 1,000 national and international libraries, the ESTC also contains the locations of surviving materials so that researchers will be able to actually consult the materials listed in the file. A listing of contributing libraries and their symbols will be found in the accompanying paper guide to the disc.

ACCESS POINTS: Unlike more traditional CD-ROM indices (e.g., Humanities Index, MLA, etc.), the ESTC has no controlled vocabulary or established subject terms. Expressions, terms, concepts, phrases or keywords common to the eighteenth century serve as access points. Users search by limiting to various options:

kw = keyword
kwt = keyword in title
au = personal author
ac = corporate author
auc = keyword in corporate author
aa = author all (combining corporate and personal author)
ti = title phrase
cy = country of publication
pl = place of publication (e.g., London, Edinburgh)
iw = keyword in imprint
ia = imprint all
py = date of publication
ng = keyword in general notes
nr = keyword in reference na = notes all
mi = microfilm details
ge = genre (categories of materials)
lib = library holding material (British) lin = library holding material (North American) lio = library holding material (other)
la = language of publication
ie = ESTC record number cs = combine searches (e.g., CS=1 and CS=2)

"PERMISSION TO REPRODUCE THIS MATERIAL HAS BEEN GRANTED BY

Debra J. Richey

Articles (e.g., a, an, the) are excluded from the indices and cannot be searched as search terms.

$ is used for truncation, so kw=bookbind$ would find bookbinder, bookbinders, bookbinding, etc.

SEARCHING THE FILE: Directions are indicated on the screens. The function or F keys are at the top of the keyboard. To search the file:

1. Select the ESTC file from the main menu by entering 1.
2. Press the enter key again.
3. Select SEARCH from the menu bar at the top of the screen by pressing the enter key. This will call up the list of options.
4. Enter your options, then press the enter key. For example:

au=swift, jonathan
ti=dunciad

Note: All lower case letters may be used.
There is no space before and after the = sign.
You can start all over by pressing the Esc key.

5. To view citations, press enter or the F10 key. Records will automatically be displayed in alphabetical author/title order.
To display by date enter Shift-F10.
6. Use the cursor arrow keys to move up and down the brief citations. To see the full or complete record, move the arrow key to the desired citation and press enter. This will highlight the citation. More than one record may be highlighted. Press F10 to see the full citation. To move from one displayed record to another, enter Shift +.
7. To begin a new search, press Esc (escape), then Esc again. This will take you back to the main screen of options.
8. To print, press F5. Records can be printed in either the full or brief citation. To save records for downloading or later printing, press F4.
9. To quit the system, enter Shift-F1.
